Last updated: 19/11/2026

1. Who we are

DH Drones Logbook is provided by DH drones. You can contact us at info@dhdrones.co.uk

2. Summary

We do not collect, receive, store or have access to any of your information. The information you enter into the app stays on your own devices and in your own private iCloud account. There are no accounts, no advertising, no analytics and no tracking.

3. Information you enter in the app

The app lets you record information such as:

- Flight records (date, location, aircraft, take-off and landing times, battery number, airspace and operation categories, purpose, notes)
- Aircraft details (name, make and model, serial number)
- Your pilot profile (name, email address, telephone number, Operator ID, Flyer ID and SUA operator)

You choose what to enter. This information is used only to run the app, to show your statistics and to create the reports and exports that you request.

4. Where your information is stored

Your information is stored on your device. If you are signed in to iCloud, the app also syncs it between your devices using Apple's CloudKit service, in your own private iCloud database. Only you, signed in with your Apple ID, can access that data. We cannot see it, and it is not sent to us or to any third party by the app. Apple's handling of iCloud data is described in Apple's own privacy policy.

5. Backups and exports

The app can create backup files, PDF logbooks and CSV spreadsheets. These files contain the information you have entered, including your pilot details. They are created on your device, and you decide where they are saved or sent, for example to Files, iCloud Drive,

AirDrop, email or another app. Once you share a file, it is subject to the privacy practices of the place you send it to. Please keep your backup files secure.

6. What we do not do

- We do not collect personal data.
- We do not use advertising, analytics, crash-reporting or tracking tools.
- We do not sell or share your information.
- We do not use third-party services that receive your data.

7. Keeping and deleting your information

Your information stays in the app until you delete it. Deleting a flight or aircraft in the app removes it from your devices that sync through iCloud. Deleting the app removes the local copy from that device. To remove the synced copy from iCloud, go to Settings → your name → iCloud → Manage Account Storage, choose the app and delete its data. Backup and export files you have saved elsewhere are not removed automatically; delete them yourself where you saved them.

8. Children

The app is not directed at children, and we do not knowingly collect information from anyone.

9. Your rights

Because we do not hold or receive your information, we have no personal data about you to access, correct or delete. You can view, change and delete everything you have entered directly in the app. If you have any questions about your rights under data protection law, please contact us at the address above.

10. Changes to this policy

If we change how the app handles information, we will update this policy and the date at the top. Please check it from time to time.
